

Overrated

Irma Thomas

You can wrap me up, in a state of mind,
And free my sole.
You can take the light that I can't see,
And let it glow. Every time I see you,
I forget the stormy clouds in my head and I just think about you. [Chorus]
Will you lift me up,
Will you turn my world or is this overrated?
Will you make me weak,
When I hold your hand, or is this overrated?
Will you change my mood,
With a single smile or is this overrated? You're the only voice, that I want to hear.
You're the only sound.
And I tried so hard to fight this war and it's taking hold. There's no use in trying,
You can see that I am yours, I'm falling, and so I think about you. [Chorus] Cause I've been hurt by the same thing before,
You know the kind, the one who you think is for sure.
So don't you go letting me down,
Cause I couldn't take it no more.
Don't you go letting me down. [Chorus]
