

Silver Wings

The Knitters

Silver wings shining in the sunlight;
Roaring engines headed somewhere in flight.
They're taking you away, leaving me lonely;
Silver wings, slowly fading out of sight. "Don't leave me," I cried.
" Don't take no airplane ride."
But you locked me out of your mind,
Left me standing here behind. Silver wings shining in the sunlight;
Roaring engines headed somewhere in flight.
They're taking you away, leaving me lonely;
Silver wings, slowly fading out of sight.
Slowly fading out of sight. (Silver wings.)
Slowly fading out of sight. To fade.
