Every Breath

Tracy Bonham

I see you runnin' and it's all over now The devil's comin' and he's showin' us how He's goin' down on the street light It's such a cool sightThe lizard king is here and where are you now? The monkey brain is here, he's showing us how He's goin' down on the cool right And I am loosing sightAnd every breath is like the one before Yeah, it's like the one before You get it right, you breathe no moreSold my shadow on the blackest of nights Sometimes it pushed me right out of the light It's going down on the cool, right and I am losing You're here to tempt me and it's all I can doTo keep from running just to try something new I'm goin down on the cool ride And I am right behindAnd every breath is like the one before Yeah, it's like the one before You get it right, you breathe no more No more, no more, no moreEvery breath is like the one before Yeah, it's like the one before You get it right, you breathe no moreOh and every breath is like the one before Yeah, it's like the one before You bank on it, you breathe no more No more, no more, no more
