Again & Again

Holly Brook

Unlocking metaphors
Caches that were safe before
Lost their secrets to the wind
It isn't everyday
You can see the other face
Watching you I'm watching me who could this be?
Your wounds begin to sing
Red melodies that sting
Like ice bury me twice
Running from the heat
From the lines that break me, oh
I'll give another try
Fallen angel
You're terminal high
Feeding the hunger of your sky
Take all the poison that I give
Just to live, for feeling, hey
Use me again
You're stuck in a centerfold
Written in capitals
Bake the time talking through wine

Young boys that you tantalize
Sipping on your pretty eyes
But you would kill just to feel real
Lately on this vine
The showers have been steady, oh
Are you ready for this flight?
Fallen angel
You're terminal high
Feeding the hunger of your sky
Take all the poison that I give
Just to live, for feeling, hey
Use me again
Again, again and again
Again, again
Again, again and again, ooh, oh, yeah
Fallen angel
You're terminal high

Feeding the hunger of your sky
Take all the poison that I give
Just to live, for feeling, hey
Use me again
