

3000

David Duchovny

East and West stare each other down
Opposing sides of a divided town
Like soldiers frozen in the coldest war
Theyâ€™ve forgotten what theyâ€™re fight for
I keep to my stand on my side and see
The moon watching over you and me
When you dream? Do you keep up the fight
Youâ€™re deaf to my footsteps in the middle of the night

3000

3000

3000 steps in the dark
3000 steps across the park
3000 steps, I walk some more
3000 footsteps to your door

When I hit the Reservoir
Itâ€™s then I know that I donâ€™t have far
When I hit Madison
Youâ€™re about to know just why Iâ€™ve come

3000

3000

3000 steps to have my sway
3000 steps on feet of clay
3000 steps so close so far
3000 steps to Central Park

I will walk through meadows of sheep
Towards you hidden in the shadows of sleep
I will walk through Strawberry Fields
Each step another sign of what I feel

You and I stare each other down
Opposing sides of a divided crown
As I fight through the civil war
We remember whatâ€™s worth fighting for

3000

3000

3000 steps to heaven and hell
3000 steps forget about 12
3000 steps might as well be the moon
3000 steps between me and you
3000
3000
3000
