Very Little Daylight

navarro, dave

I always knew that the secrets could hurt me
I never knew it was yours that would kill me
I never tried to be yours to take care of
You never said you were mine to beware of
How many more will there be?
How many more will there be, be?
I only feel alone when I'm with you
(Learning to pray)
I could never be all that you want me to
(I fall away)
How many more will there be?
How many more will there be, be, be?
I'd never wish myself upon you
But I cut myself trying not to
If you can't share yourself with me
You're the person I thought that you would be Another moment of silence without you
(Barely alive)
I figured out that I meant nothing to you
(Bury me high)
How many more will there be?
How many more will there be?
How many more will there be?
How many more will there be, be, be?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/