Terminal Velocity

Saxon

Get your kicks in the edge of the sky twenty miles up on the borderline Feel the rush as your body drops through the air
Take a step right into space
Take the blast right in your face
Tumbling down, down towards the groundTime has come, paid your dues (*)
Take a chance, light the fuse
In thirty seconds time your at terminal velocityAdrenalin rush on a maximum high thirty thousand feet to the end of the line Screaming down towards the world below
Push yourself out dive into air
Take a leap devil may care
Ride the wind across the open sky(Repeat *)
