Last Goodbye

Truth Before Treason

I made it through the day
Just to see your face
That I'll never see again
I look into the mirror
And I can barely see
What is left of me

(Chorus) They lay you down by yourself
I look around and I can see
The faces of the people and they cry for your life
And I know that this could be our last goodbye

My strength is growing weak
Happiness I seek, but I can't have that without you
The days are growing longer
I'm not getting any stronger - for you have left this world

And I know you would want the best for me
Your smile helps me move on

(Chorus)

Goodbye...

(Chorus)
