

Something About A Woman

Jake Owen

She pulled her hair back to sun her shoulders
Took the oil and rubbed it all over her soft skin
Oh I'm a lucky man
She wasn't wantin' any suntan lines so she Reached back and she untied that little string
And then she smiled at me And blew a kiss right off her fingertips
I don't know what it is But there's something about a woman
Yeah some kind sweet little something
That I may never understand
Yeah some kind of gift they're given
That makes this life worth livin'
And it makes a man a man
Oh there's nothing like that Somethin' about a woman I sat there for a while and wondered
And she took a nap there under that summer sky
And then I realized There are things in life that are meant to be Maybe left a mystery Yeah like that something about a woman
Yeah some kind sweet little something
That I may never understand
Yeah some kind of gift they're given
That makes this life worth livin'
And it makes a man a man
Oh there's nothing like that
Somethin' about a woman Yeah some kind of gift they're given
That makes this life worth livin'
And it makes a man a man
Oh I'm nothing without that Somethin' about a woman
Oh about a woman

Songwriters

REGAN, BOB / RITCHEY, JIMMY / OWEN, JAKE Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>