Jump In The Pool (Wild Geese Remix)

Friendly Fires

Inner city sky rise over town at night
You pushed me to the top floor
So we could see the sightsI could tell that you wanted to
Jump in the pool, jump in the pool
I looked at you I knew you wanted to
Jump in the pool, jump in the poolI push out, I breathe in
A stillness turning away
Don't look back, don't pretend
We'll never take control againWe're falling beyond the horizon
And only the water remains
The fear is falling awayOn the poolside staring into glowing blue
Swimsuit issues with my toes
Curled in the groovesI could tell that you wanted to
Jump in the pool, jump in the pool
I looked at you I knew you wanted to
Jump in the pool, jump in the poolI push out, I breathe in
A stillness turning away
Don't look back, don't pretend
We'll never take control againAnd before that we own the horizon
And only the water remains
The fear is falling awayKeep breathing, keep searching, keep holding on Keep breathing, keep living, keep holding onI push out, I breathe in
A stillness turning away
Don't look back, don't pretend
We'll never take control againAnd before that we own the horizon
And only the water remains
The fear is falling away
