In the Blood

The Veils

He holds your nightmares in one hand
And your dreams in the other
But no matter which one you demandYou'll wish you'd chose the other
You'll wish you'd chose the other
And still you know no better.
He bathes the world in holy lightAnd everlasting colour
Now papa's turning out the lights
Say you'll never love another
I'll never love another
I'll never love another.How could you love me baby just to strip it all away
How could you love me baby just to strip it all away
It's in the blood.
