

Melt

Boxed In

I still believe in alchemy
Light before the darkness, melt away the shade
I still believe in you and me
But iron won't turn gold lately I could reach the border, climb up to the top
Pick you through a million faces
Why you always run from, why you never stop
Never in the same two places You lost touch
You've been taken, gone today
Hold your gaze as I watch you fade away
Don't know what you want from me, anymore
Two can play these games and turn, at the door I could reach the border, climb up to the top
Pick you through a million faces
Why you always run from, why you never stop
Never in the same two places You lost touch
You've been taken, gone today
Hold your gaze as I watch you fade away You lost touch
You've been taken, gone today
Hold your gaze as I watch you fade away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
Hold your gaze in the distance melt away
