Wrong About That

Dallas Smith

If I was to take a guess, hey girl I bet you don't have any tattoos You never jumped up on the bar, sang "back in black" or air-guitar now have you? when midnight rolls around you find a door and sneak on out, bet that's what you always dobut i'd love to be wrong about that i'd love to have you make me take it all back girl look at you standing in the party lights peeling that label, looking so shy but you'd never give a guy like me a try, and that's to bad cause i'd love to be wrong about that i'd love to be wrong about thatand maybe if i'm right your probably not the kind to just kiss someone for fun you never left a lipstick print on a menthol cigarette when you got a little too drunk and when they pass that plate at church and find some panties in your purse do you go "what have I done?" oh nobut i'd love to be wrong about that
cause i'd love to be wrong about thatguess it's time to walk on over and say hello and try to get to know ya buy you a drink and tell you a joke and try to make ya laugh and see where it goes if i roll the dice and take a chance you might let me kiss ya slow well i'm hoping that ya will but i'm betting that ya won'tbut i'd love to be wrong about that
i'd love to be wrong about that
