

Must Have Been High

Boyzone

And I must have been high
And I must have been high I thought of every reason, excuses I could give
But all it took was one to break your heart
(And I must have been high)
I thought it would be easy, assumed you would forgive
But now I gotta beg you, girl, I can't stand to be apart And I must've been high, girl, to let you by
No good reason why, there's no you and I
And I must've been low, girl, to let you go
How was I to know, I would miss you so
Girl, I'd miss you so I wanted to move on, girl, no time to settle down
Didn't wanna give my love to only you
But since you have been gone, girl, I took a look around
And if I've gotta beg you, girl, that's what I'm gonna do And I must've been high, girl to let you by
No good reason why, there's no you and I
(And I must have been high now, baby)
And I must've been low, girl, to let you go
How was I to know, I would miss you so
Girl, I miss you so Oh girl, I'll give you everything I've gotta give Oh girl and I will make it all up I swear to you
Oh girl and all I'm askin' you please is to forgive me, girl
That's what you gotta do And I must have been (So high, so high)
And I must have been high
(Ooh, oh yeah, now tell me, baby, ooh) And I must've been high, girl, to let you by
No good reason why, there's no you and I
(And I must have been high now, baby)
And I must've been low, girl, to let you go
How was I to know, I would miss you so
(Oh yeah now tell me baby) And I must've been high, girl to let you by
No good reason why, there's no you and I
(And I must have been high now, baby)
And I must've been low, girl, to let you go
How was I to know, I would miss you so And I must've been high, girl, to let you by
No good reason why, there's no you and I
(And I must have been high now, baby)
And I must've been low, girl, to let you go
How was I to know, I would miss you so
