Wasting Time Again

Howlong Wolf

Is there something left to change
Does it have to stay the same
Will I ever reach the moon?
Still within rifle range
Still part of the same game
I've been cheering way to soon

Another way to go back home
Another chance to change the truth
Strike for freedom to stay sane
I feel the emptiness we've found
Forget the places of my youth
Dare the buildings out again

There's a wall
There's a mountain of insanity
There's an awful lots of things
There's a wall between me and this calamity
But I'm just wasting time again

There's a wall
There's a mountain of insanity
There's an awful lots of things
There's a wall between me and this calamity
But I'm just wasting time again

Another way to turn our track
I take a retch into my sack
Another day that won't come back
Another way to turn our track
It's time for me to crack
I'm just wasting time again

Is there something left to change
Will I ever reach the moon
Will it ever stay the same

I am within rifle range
And I won't be leaving soon

I am wasting time again

Lyrics Submitted by Emily

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/