

Twilight of the Gods

Blind Guardian

Insania 2 O 4

We've thrown away our former Gods controlling our day

We have created better ones so we control the way

We are the ones with the power to hold down the enemy

Our Gods are perfection and they are protecting our lives

We still need some more of them to be safe from the other side

As long as we're stronger nothing will happen to usFire flash in the night, just an evil dream

Holy war in the sky, neverInsania 2 O 16

Error in store 1 O 3, we watch the sun at night

The pretty Gods we've built ourselves now terminate our lives

Silicone brain powered voices are crying attack tonight

Our Gods are now fighting in anger, burning our world

The doomsday has come and there is no place to hide away

The future is over and there is no turning backFireflash in the night, now reality

Holy war in the skyTwilight of the Gods, insania's dead and gone

Another world was born but the twilight soon will comeFireflash in the night, now reality

Holy war in the skyTwilight of the Gods, insania's dead and gone

Another world was born but the twilight soon will come
