Emma Kate's Accident

Bloc Party

And you will say you did it to yourself
And you will say you fell down the stairs
And you will say you walked into a doorAnd you will say you have two left feet
And you will say it was your own fault
And you will lie but I know the truthThere's a difference in loving and being in loveWhen we talk now I listen for the truth
In your lies and we're doing so good
How your heart still belongs to himThere's a difference in loving and being in love
