Saved By Love

Amy Grant

Laura loves her little family
And she's the kind of woman who loves them with her life
But sometimes in the evening, when the world rests on her shoulders
With four walls closing in, she'll close her eyes
Oh, it's not like she misses being younger
Though she never was in Vogue magazine or on TV
Her husband loves her dearly, and the morning shows her clearly
Kisses her little baby girl, Laura, she's the queen of the world
Can't imagine ever leaving now, now that she's been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
Listen to her quiet heart singing loud Laura, she's been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
I know that she's been saved by love saved by love, saved by love
Saved by love
There's nothing quite like my family's love to warm me
And nothing short of death's gonna ever leave me cold
Well, still at times it's lonely, but through it all it only Makes me love Jesus more, and this is what He came here for
I can't imagine ever leaving now, now that I've been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
He's gone and turned my crazy world back around
And I've been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
I know that I've been saved by love saved by love, saved by love
Oh, I'm never leaving now, now that I've been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
He's gone and turned my crazy world back around
And I've been saved by love
Saved by love, saved by love
Amy, she's been saved by love saved by love, saved by love
Saved by love
I'm saved by love
That's right and nothing I can say
Nothing I can do, nothing I can say
We're all just saved by love
Nothing you can say, nothing you can do
Only love can say, only love can do
Only love can say
Only love can say, only love can do

Only love can say
I'm saved by, I'm saved by, by Nothing you can do, nothing you can say
Only love can say

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/