

Plastic People

Shontelle

Carry me home away from all these things
That keep deceiving me
I'm all alone nowhere no one
To show me where to go Take my money, wear my shirt
Using me to do your dirt
Judging me when all the time
You're the one who did the crime Someone tell me what's the truth?
Save the children, save the youth
What about our hopes and dreams?
You're not what you really seem Nation of the plastic people
Here's the church and here's the steeple
Preaching good and doing evil
Trying to treat you less than equal Saying this and meaning that
Twist a knife into your back
Don't be cast into the sequel
Living in a nation of plastic people You're just like a rose I wanna grow
So I can serve my purpose here
I wanna fly before I die
Be like a bird and touch the sky Take my home and take my name
Generation cellophane
There's no difference, all the same
I don't know when I'm ashamed Can you walk inside my shoes?
Don't be mad if I refuse
Artificial attributes
Different leaders same old news Nation of the plastic people
Here's the church and here's the steeple
Preaching good and doing evil
Trying to treat you less than equal Saying this and meaning that
Twist a knife into your back
Don't be cast into the sequel
Living in a nation of plastic people Want you to know, it's a situation begging for salvation
Look into the sky and answer to all my frustration
There's a choice I'm making, if there's a chance I'll take it
It's the only life I got to live, so I can't fake it Generation, desperation, demonstration, provocation
Population, segregation, isolation, suffocation
Degradation, desolation, living in a plastic nation Nation of the plastic people
Here's the church and here's the steeple
Preaching good and doing evil
Trying to treat you less than equal Saying this and meaning that

Twist a knife into your back

Don't be cast into the sequel

Living in a nation of plastic people
Generation, desperation, demonstration, provocation

Population, segregation, isolation, suffocation

Degradation, desolation destination of the nation

Degradation, desolation, living in a plastic nation

Living in a plastic nation
