

Manchild

Steven Page

There's wisdom
In every little thing you say
And I'm wrong
And getter wronger every day
I'll be true
You know I'll never break your heart
I hear you
Could you repeat the last lineDarling, you're talking to a man now
You're talking to a man, now, child
Speak slowly, speak slowly
Sweetheart
what do you think I do all day
I make art
When inspiration blows my way
Oh, the shouting
I'm getting kinda used to that but
This doubting my intentions
Honey that just makes me sadDarling, you're talking to a manchild
You're talking to a manchild now
Speak slowly, speak slowlyYou ask for conversation
You ask for understanding
Then you say you want a man
Look how hard I'm trying
I let you watch me crying
I'm just like you, but I'm a man
I know you
You think I'm just a lazy jerk
But I miss you
Babe when you're away at work.
And Genius
Can strike a man at any time
So I'm waiting
Let's cut it with the heavy sighs.Darling, you're talking to a manchild
Darling, you're talking to a manchild now
Speak slowly, speak slowly
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>