Swings

Silkworm

Now I know, what it's like to be afraid of you
And I'm a yoyo that swings between the old and the new
And I wonder what I said before I realized that you're nothing
At least you're nothing newYeah, now I know that I made a big mistake on you
And its undertow is threatening to drag me down too
And I wonder what I said before I told the truth, I know you
I've been waiting and I'm sick of waiting all the timeYou know that you ring me
You know that you ring meYou know I knocked on your front door
They said you weren't staying there anymore
Ain't it amazing how quickly amazing things can dieYou know that you bring me down
You know that you wear me out
You know that you ring me like a dinner bell going south
You know that, that you wring me dry
