

The Last Time

Bette Midler

Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
I have no guts, I have no pride
My heart is weak, my love is blind
When your game is up, I'll still be by your side
If you love me at all, let this be the last time
That you break my heart
That you break my heart
That you break my heart You hurt me so much, but I love you forever
'Cause when you tear me up, you always put me back together
Ever so gently, ever so gently
Baby, let this be the last time, yeah Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
I bite my lip and hold my head up high
I try my best not to let you see me cry
I can take a joke and you can be unkind
If you love me at all, let this be the last time
That you break my heart
That you break my heart
That you break my heart You hurt me so much but I love you forever
'Cause when you tear me up, you always put me back together
Ever so gently, ever so gently
Baby, let this be the last time, yeah You hurt me so much but I love you forever
'Cause when you tear me up, you always put me back together
Ever so gently, ever so gently
Baby, let this be the last time Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
Let this be the last time, let this be the last time
