First Steps to Recovery

Chasing Victory

Footsteps marching and the soft angel voices
Singing to the sound of hundreds and thousands of lives
All muted by a wave of the ocean's furyFootsteps marching and the soft angel voices
Singing to the sound of hundreds and thousands of lives
All muted by a wave of the ocean's furyFootsteps marching and the soft angel voices
Singing to the sound of hundreds and thousands of lives
All muted by a wave of the ocean's furyFootsteps marching and the soft angel voices
Singing to the sound of hundreds and thousands of lives
All muted by a wave of the ocean's furyPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
To come and take you awayPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
Just come and take you awayThere's an angel begging you to come to her
I know the ocean took you by surprise
But don't worry child it will be alrightThere's a message to the king
It reads a disappointing numbers of the children
Who have come home to kiss his ringPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
Just come and take you awayPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
Just come and take you awayPack your bags, here we come
Just pack your bags, here it comesPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
To come and take you awayPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
To come and take you awayPack your bags, here we come
Pack your bags, here it comes
