She Burns

Foy Vance

She is a little explosion of hope
Never turns the lights down low
She can go there if you wanna though
There are no markings on her country roads
No signs that show the way back home
When you get there you won't wanna go
I've frozen all my desireCovered up in virgin snow
But when I stand beside her
She burns yeah she burns
Like petrol soaked paper and fireworks
And I'm burning yeah I'm burning
I'm burning so deep that just breathing hurts
I'm melting darling, I can't let goShe likes to lay under the covers though
Pretending everywhere's our home
Keeps me warm right to my very soul
We get so tangled up its hard to know
What is hers and what's my own
Vines at the bottom of an olive grove
I've frozen all my desires
Covered up in virgin snowBut when I stand beside her
She burns yeah she burns
Like petrol soaked paper and fireworks
And I'm burning yeah I'm burning
I'm burning so deep that just breathing hurts
I'm melting darling, I can't let go /x3
