Running Scared

Nik Kershaw

noon glistens and shadows wave who know whether we're stupid or brave and they way we are
oh we are

running scaredno use fighting in the name of pride when there probably isn't any place to hide and the two of us

running scaredthey're fakin' their peace and makin' their tracks they re watching you, watching them, watching your backs and they know we are

oh we are

running scaredrunning scared

from hearsay and hate

fatality and fate

st peter's pearly gate

on the run

to merciful release

where paranoias cease

and an everlasting peace

is not a gunwe could be pushing it much too far well maybe we, maybe, just maybe we are

and the both of us

both of us

running scaredexcuse me officer, don't you know that this is the place where you people don't go

here we go

running scaredrunning scared

is not a gunrunning

running scared
