Drowners

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

It hurts like hell, but I'd give myself in for you,
You settle down,
but I was holding my eyes from blinking.
And I almost choked
when you offered me a smoke on your cigarette.
Dry your eyes, this is only the first half.
Well, it took me by surprise
when you held me to your chest and said
"I could love you in secret. I could love you in secret.
I could love you in secret, but no one can know."
And it's all arranged,
yeah I plan my jokes before I see you.
And it sounded strange,
but there was reason for sadness between you.
There's reason for sadness between you.
There's reason for sadness between you.
I almost choked
when you offered me a smoke on your cigarette.
Dry your eyes, this is only the first half.
It took me by surprise
when you held me to your chest and said,
"I could love you in secret. I could love you in secret.
I could love you in secret, but no one can know."
I could love you in secret. I could love you in secret.
I could love you in secret, but no one can know.
and in a dream I had, it all made sense.
In a dream I had, it all made sense.
