Suffocating Right

Neuroticfish

From beneath the bedroom floor
It is hunting me
Silence clicking off the door
And it sucks me inWas I right to overstep the border that leads me to this place?
Was I right to ignoring all the warning signs
Accepting to fall from grace?Am I suffocating right?
Is there anybody watching?
Is there anything inside
That might keep me hereAm I suffocating right?
Is there anybody listening?
Is there anything inside
that can stop me here?From behind the bedroom door it is calling me
A silence never felt before and I am still cryingWas I right to overstep the thin line that keeps me from this place?
Was I right to rejecting all the spoken words ignoring to fall from grace?Am I suffocating right?
Is there anybody watching?
Is there anything inside
that might keep me hereAm I suffocating right?
Is there anybody listening?
Is there anything inside
that can stop me here
