

Scars of Yesterday

DragonForce

Suffer the raging anger creeping below
Trapped in the circle so helpless, forces beyond
This is your last chance to die I hear a thousand voices screaming my name
Dreams of a life forgotten now will be gone
Never to return again Hide from the light in fear so hypnotized, filtered and disguised
Burning forever, try to remember sadness in her eyes
So many times now we've been here before
No more illusions behind the open door Trapped within my fierce desire resistance is futile
Screaming for your life no where to hide
Tonight we cross the line, your innocence is mine Falling down my life fading now to the end
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from this craving the one thing
I can't have inside of me but is it all a waste of time? Lost in a misery the fatal demise
Forced to a living that no one can understand
Hiding behind all the lies Lifetime of slavery your cries are in vain
Lurking around in the shadows unto the end
Fearless in fatal disguise Wake from the dream the life you left behind time to understand
Lost in the laughter life ever after trials of a broken man
And through this madness a new day will rise
We shall remember the pain she held inside Fear the pain inside my heart out sacrifice in vain
Screaming for your life no where to hide
This everlasting strain driving you insane Falling down my life fading now to the end
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from this craving the one thing
I can't have inside of me but is it all a waste of time? Still lost in the universe we cry for a new day to come
Break free from our loneliness the last time
Pray tonight as we try to understand Falling down my life fading now to the end
I'm alive forever my soul will ascend
One last chance of glory in my heart again
Set me free from this craving the one thing
I can't have inside of me, just a memory but is it all a waste of time?
