

I Reminice

Mr. Sancho

Only 2 and a half years but a life time of memories the moment I heard you were gone I broke down crying on my knees saying lord please take me instead cuz I feel like im already dead my mente is like above up in smoke remembering of his head man gettin a little chopped up just rapping about it los hombres no lloran por shit home boy we're rapping about it and I reminice about back in the days we used to play before we lift la wieghts but I also remember the stuff that we had and pulling the play this way hearing you say to this day ey perro come overs so we can lift wieghts saying getting a hyna and getting first base then i inbrace finally, has being to be reality cuz I hate living a fantasy and realizing your not really here instead of myself it cannot be it cannot be that not really here(4x)

I reminice about back in the days carnal we used to kick it in the play ground and lift wieghts carnal

I wonder why you had to leave my side your memory is in my mind every day and every night all of the time your probably wondering why I didn't show up in the funeral I bet it was beautiful carnal they didn't hash to deleted you, laying there when I had another back cuz the black cuz I couldn't understand the bad that you had to pass, you didn't get the chance to live a finely life or do something right I'll do this one more time. Thanks for everything expressing my gratitude at this chiquilin down with this cuz I went down with prace and this emotional mains but to the end of my days, thinking of ways of how to get by so I can live myself a space so I must get high, what is this so many occasions I saw, not enough access or rogations to call, I don't worry at all, I'll be the help on the ball for not being really sure at all with the pictures on my wall, now you let me down to sleep trade myself for the lord to keep and if you haven't seen me get down for the weed, no wonder you will true rest in peace. Yeah was up this song is dedicated to my homeboy called Gabriel who passed away in mother's day and is dedicated to his familia and everyone whose lost some one out there, rest in peace, I know you are looking down on me homie, know it, rest in peace, gracias por everything
