

Revenge Of Tizona

Metalium

[Theme: El Cid / Spain]Vivar, Burgos, ano one thousand forty three brought up with truth soon to stand for honour and gloryride on, fearless through the rain and storm loyalty and believe in AragonI am here, revenge of Tizona
feel the fear my vengeance will go farbetrayed by Fernando no longer protects crown and throne but legions behind him still follow the leader they knowdead man riding through the rain and storm battle won as Barbieca takes you homeI am here, revenge of Tizona
feel the Fear
my vengeance will go farI am here, revenge of Tizona
feel the Fear
my vengeance will go far[Story:] "El Cid Campeador" (born as Rodrigo Diaz de Vivar, 1043) was one of the most successful conqueror in Spain, fighting for king Fernando with his sword called "Tizona".
When he died in a battle, his legions strapped his dead body on his horse "Barbieca" and let it ride into the battlefield the day after his death.
The enemies escaped in pure panic as they believed they saw the living dead ride again.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>