

Conspicuous Minimalism

Namelessnumberheadman

High above the ocean
High above the sea
High above this ink and paper, you were next to me.
Called you from the window
Called you from the drowsy, halfway stubborn sleeping.
 Waves repeat with anger
 Waves repeat with cause.
Waves repeat in perfect sequence
 Serve to give us pause.
 Stand to face this morning
I'll sing the sun up, push my feet forward
Stumble to the next oasisOne of us is home, I know.Count the leaves in tandem 8 then 5 then 3
Find the pattern, pray the pathway soon revealed to be Fix my eyes upon you
 Landlocked from the winter sparrows
An ocean full of ink can't write thatOne of us is home, I know.
