Can't Stand the Strain

Funkadelic

This old heart couldn't stand the strain
This old heart couldn't stand the pain
I've get the strangest feeling you've grown tired of me
Something that was ours [Incomprehensible]
And make you unhappyWhat's wrong, baby?
Complainin' by the day, I can feel the change
I've been working down south for ?
And you're convinced that I'm to blameWhat's wrong, baby?
'Cause this old heart is not in shape
This old heart couldn't stand the strain
This old man is going insane
You're taking your love awayI'm losing you, I don't know why
Tell me what can I do
I don't want to say anything
Just to hold on to you, dig it, babyLover's words be so unfair
To make live without kiss
I don't know but I've been told
Make [Incomprehensible] this
Dig it, baby'Cause this old heart is not in shape, oh no
This old heart couldn't stand the strain
This old man is going insaneDon't do it, don't Don't do it, don't
Don't take your love away
Mama don't take it awayDon't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love away
Mama don't take it awayDon't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love away
Mama don't take it awayDon't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love away(Everybody say it, come on)
Don't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love away
(Mama don't take it away)Don't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love awayDon't do it
Don't do it

Don't take your love awayDon't do it
Don't do it
Don't take your love away
