

I Love You My Hope

Hird

The sun sets behind you
And it shines on me too
This view must be the highest beauty And I know the light will pass
And the dark will fall
But I don't care about that now
No, I don't care about that now The days we spend Searching, sometimes finding
If we die today, we should die smiling And I know these times
Will be gone someday
But I don't care about that now
No, I don't care about that now What we believe is what we believe
Faith to give relief
And maybe all our truths will be lies someday
But I don't care about that now I believe in love
Love believes in be
Though it tribulates
And my heart tests my sanity And I know this love
Is gonna hurt some day
But I don't care about that now, now The sun sets behind you
And I know that light will pass
And the dark will fall
But I don't care about that now And I know these times will be gone someday
No, I don't care about that now
And maybe all our truths will be lies someday
But I don't care about that now And I know this love
Is gonna hurt some day
No, I don't care about that now, oh I don't care about that now
I believe in love

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>