Time Will Tell

Dionne Bromfield

They think you're an angel, a heart of gold
I must be a real bad girl to treat you so
You painted a picture, put me in the fray
Now you get sympathy and I get all the blame

Told all of our friends
Why you couldn't have them
But I don't know when
Time will tell
Yeah, you may have got it full now
But you gon' mess up somehow
Time will tell
Even though the fact is you play ghetto tactics
Served you well
I've seen the side that you hide nobody knows
But it's gon' show, it's gon' show

I call you Mr. Blanks, you're so see-through
But I'm unbreakable when it comes to you
So do your worst, I'll still come first
'Cause one day it's gonna hurt
You get what you deserve

Time will tell
Yeah, you may have got it full now
But you gon' mess up somehow
Time will tell
Even though the fact is you play ghetto tactics
Served you well
I've seen the side that you hide nobody knows
But it's gon' show, it's gon' show

One day you gonna push the line just a little Caught between your lies and the truth in the middle
Gonna see the face that you hid so well

Time will tell
Yeah, you may have got it full now
But you gon' mess up somehow

Time will tell
Even though the fact is you play ghetto tactics
Served you well
I've seen the side that you hide nobody knows
But it's gon' show, it's gon' show
Time will tell, time will tell
Served you well
Time will tell, time will tell.
