

Parachutes

Trevor Hall

Kids are insane
sick in the brain,
icking the same wounds
sit with the same moon above us

But we're all different form the other cause we share the same pain
It's mutual, it's beautiful.
And all of our tears, and all of our fears they all come in one form, and yet we think we're from a different storm.
There ain't no question how you've got to realize how. it's mutual, it's beautiful.

So how long can we continue to ride this sunken ship?
Cause I believe, yes I believe that we can find the surface.
And even though it seems like this airplane is going down.
Don't be afraid, it will all be okay, see there are plenty of parachutes to go around
A parachute (x3)

See for whatever it's worth I never left earth
I choked on my own blood along with my own gun
Surrounded by no one
And now that I'm gone, I still sing my song
To try to keep the children away from all the killing to show them a new mission, Trying to keep some peace in their hearts

So how long can we continue to ride this sunken ship?
Cause I believe, yes I believe that we can find the surface.
And even though it seems like this airplane is going down
Don't be afraid, it will all be okay, see there are plenty of parachutes to go around

A parachute (x3)
Uh huh, yeah
