

NewSong

Tactica

is your skin a nervous wreck whatever shape it's in and this longevity, believe me feels this good and what for you to worry, I wont bring you down...and there's something about this obsession and if you people manage in disposession all these worlds are all for me and if you never call for me then refrigerate after opening and take your mind off of dwelling on this and your kiss of tequila lips on me please say you're reading say you're reading meand I will sin and I will lie I will then live and I will die
I will disguise and I will rise... shut up, you don't know anything...
