Empress

Empress

The sun is going down, the curtain's falling
The heat is rising now, the master's calling Into the night I thunder, into the dead of night and I will head the calling and leave it all behindThe holy man has lost the grail, signs of love from yesterday the eyes of god of have turned away, the dream became alive all my life I've waited for the yearning in my heart right out there I see a star, the sun is going downKiss the princess, Empress of the dark drink the poison , listen to your heart
Feed the Princess, Empress of the dark All shall feel the fireMy heart is crying out, the fever rising no one can stop me now, it's meserizing
I break the chains that bind me, the chaos in my life I leave the world behind me and live in my own mindA holy land, another shore, no more pain and no more war she's calling me from far away, makes me feel alive here I stand in front of her, losing my disguise no regrets, I'm standing there, waiting for the biteKiss the princess, Empress of the dark
drink the poison , listen to your heart
Feed the Princess, Empress of the dark
All shall feel the fireKiss the princess, Empress of the dark feel the poison , flowing through your heart Kiss the Princess, Empress of the dark All shall feel her fiery LoveAnother life,a different way, signs of life from yesterday the memory will fade away, the dream became alive here I stand in front of you, tearing off the lies no regrets, I'm standing tall, I now am free to biteKiss the princess, Empress of the dark
drink the poison , listen to your heart
Feed the Princess, Empress of the dark
All shall feel the fireKiss the princess, Empress of the dark
drink the poison ,listen to your heart
Kiss the Princess, Empress of the dark
All shall feel the fiery Love
