Queens of the Stone Age

Lie, lie to my face Tell me it ain't nothing That's what I wanna hearTake the lie to the grave That's what an old friend told me Look what it did for himThe truth hurts so bad Wouldn't you say? So why tell it? If ignorance is bliss Then I'm in heaven nowRun, you'll never escape You'll see you go nowhere Based on who you appearBroke, laid to waste Turn into sweet nothings Kiss you goodbyeThe truth hurts so bad Wouldn't you say? So why tell it? If ignorance is bliss Then I'm in heaven nowKeep going over and over again To never ending places I've never been No one's catching on, calling my bluff The Devil made me holier than every manWhat'd you do? Say it with a smile Boy, making us all forget What'd you do? Say it with a smile Boy, making us all forget
