Testimony

Grant Lee Buffalo

How can I give a testimony of my life? When I'm still trying hard to hold my head up high I'm trying so hard to hold my head up highAnd every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down Always something else And every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down But I can't outrun myselfHow can I give a testimony of my time? When it's so hard to pen a simple valentine It weighs a little heavy on my mindAnd every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down Always something else And every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down But I can't outrun myselfOh oh you know If I told you once I've told you loads before I couldn't love you moreAnd every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down Always something else And every time I turn around Feel as though I've let you down But I can't outrun myself No oh oh oh
