Revolution Song

Fefe Dobson

In my dream I break the chains that hold this place together
But in my dream the consequences would be so much better than they are
'Cause beyond the walls that hold us here
Skies that stretch across the atmosphere
Oh, a revolution is nearIn my dream I hear the echoes of the recent battle, yeah
Lost and wounded as the faded cries begin to settle for the night
But the words you use to hurt me now
Only seem to make me jump off some how
Oh, a revolution is nowAnd the days will get warmer and I'll lay down my armor, yeah
Together we can fight this feeling
And the demons that stalk us will eventually turn to dust, yeah
Together we can start this healing, oh yeah, yeah
Together we can start this healingTogether we can fight this feeling
A revolution is here, yeah
