Read between the lines
Open up your third eye
Read between the lines
Open up your eyes!Mister Babylon, yeah!
Has got the people's eyes blind folded.
Lost inna nursery rhymes and fiction.
Still there's a real world And it's full of many so things that are not right It's no fairy tale, it's a harsh realityit looks like the three blind mice them are the big guys who put the price on the rice the dish ram away with the spoon many were left hungry desperate for food you've got to check those parables you've got to sus' it caz babylon to tricky and them moving well slippery check those parable you've got to sus it read between the lines and wisenow jack and jill went up the hill to rob poor people against their will them think them wise and think them skilled nah get no water!
humpty dumpty had to fall him scorn the crown and climbed the wall and all of them he had to call to get a plaster yow!parables you've got to sus it cuz babylon to tricky and them moving well slippery check those parables you've got to sus it read between the lines and wise
