

Dying Young

Silence 4

Everything is worth while
I regret the times we didn't spend
Watching the flowers grow
It doesn't seem to matter
Anymore who's up or who's losing
And my children look so strange
My hopes died along with happiness
Simplicity has become so complicated
From this point on it's down
Our problems start when we don't die young

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>