

One With the Earth

Carpathian Forest

A shiver creeps down my spine
As I wander through these hordes
And when these callous arm
Stretches out for me, I feel at home You are the beholders of silence
Still your voice of wisdom means more to me
Than the words from a thousand men ever will In a time with religious whores
Which keeps fucking the same cock
I gasp for air, you are my shelter A forthcoming winter-night
From one of your mighty arms
I will hang in a rope
I am you, and you are the earth!!!
