

lucid

Cocaine 80s

Maybe, the world's just going through shit
And that's the part of the design
Just maybe he's up there dreaming lucid
Been in control the whole time
She chased me through nightmare and turned around
To ask why the fuck she's chasing me
While the whole world is burning down
She said I was way too close to fire
To get me to the other side
It's why she had to open fire
Maybe I'm just going through shit
And that's a part of my design
Maybe all my dreams are lucid
Been in control the whole time
You're living through the nightmares
You pretend to smile
You forget your pretending high as fuck
Don't wanna come down
Well baby then don't, let's get higher
When the wind's gone and you're still high
You could be going out your mind
Maybe, you're just going through shit
And that's a part of your design
Maybe all your dreams are lucid
And you've been in control the whole time
Relationship nightmares it's all a drain
And the demons you've been dreaming up are angels under the pain
And I heard the world get hit tomorrow
At least we won't have to pay the bill
Won't be dreaming it's gon' get real
Maybe, just maybe we're just going through shit
And it's a part of our design
Maybe all your dreams are lucid
