

Your Mirage

The Word Alive

You're the only one
You're the only one Why can't this be what I want it to be?
Why can't I (?)
Lifting fate with the ones you share
Longing to be like you know it is there Every second without you here
You're keeping me (?) (don't be fair) You're the only one I need (only one I need)
Your body pressing against me (against me)
Rushing over to see your face
I never rid the taste Keep asking questions, will there be answers?
Feeling mysteries, is this a love affair? Now don't be fair
You know that I will be there, for you
You know that I will be there You're the only one I need (the one I need)
Your body pressing against me (against me)
Rushing over to see your face
I never rid the taste With you gone, now that I'd be there
Thinking about how when I can't care
Empty promises, I needed another life
This isn't it, this isn't it I won't let this destroy my faith
I won't give you my everything
I can't let this just end this way
You are my blessing, I am not cursed You're the only one I need
Your body pressing against me (against me)
You're the only one I need (the one I need)
Your body pressing against me (against me)
Rushing over to see your face
I never rid the taste Every second with you here (you're the only one I need)
Your body pressing against me (against me)
Every second with you here (rushing over to see your face)
I never rid the taste
