

One More Time

Jill Barber

There always seems to be a door that you can't open
There always seems to be a mountain you can't climb

 But you keep on reaching
 You just keep on reaching

When your destiny is out there in the distance
But the road ahead's a mine field in disguise

 And you keep on moving
 You just keep on moving

You will make it through this
 Just give it time
 You gotta give it time

This is what you're made for
 Standing in the downpour
Knowing that the sun will shine
 Forget what lies behind you

Heaven walks beside you
You got to give it one more try
 One more time

 You just keep on reaching
 You just keep on, you keep on moving

When the shadows fall on everything you're dreaming
When the promises turn out to be a lie
 You just keep believing
 You just keep believing
Oh, don't stop your dreaming
 It's gonna be alright
 It's gonna be alright
You've got to keep on reaching
 Keep believing
 It's gonna be alright
