Rolling

Seal

All my life
I've been selling the truth of a lifeless soul
All my life
I've been waiting for something to lead me home
You haven't seen what I saw 17 months a year when it rained
By all the power in me I do what I have to now
Rolling out of my bed
I still can't find the truth I've been searching for
Going back instead I shot my eyes
Dream who I could be once more
They see the trouble with me is that I'm one who knows
But I just don't understand
Rolling back my head
I think I've learned that I do wanna live again
All my friends
They've been telling me you are a kindred soul
All my friends
If they only knew who I was before but They haven't been where I've been 17 months a year
That's such a normal place
I don't wanna live in fear
Rolling out of my bed
I still can't find the truth I've been searching for
Going back instead, I shot my eyes
Dream who I could be once more
They see the trouble with me is that I'm one who knows
But I just don't understand
Rolling back my head
I think I've learned that I do wanna live
So I tried to go on Still I'd like to go on in this world
Well, that's life, we go on Life will go on in this world
Rolling out of my bed
I still can't find the truth I've been searching for
Going back instead, I shot my eyes
Dream who I could be once more

And they see the trouble with me is that I'm one who knows
But now I understand
Rolling back my head
I think I've learned that I do wanna live again
Still wanna live again
All my life
I've been telling the truth of a lifeless soul
All my life
I've been waiting for something to lead me home

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/