

Puddle Splashers

Cap'n Jazz

we're busy touching till we're dizzy stupid. i am a puppy. a balloon and a happy accident. missed she teaching me myths mistold. hold me here dearest and turn me golden. and i watched you holding up the sun. i remember her saying, "this whole world is a waste of my time." and all i could say is, "i wish i had something to say." but we'll stand still long enough the sun will move around us. you can't look at the sky without looking right through it.
