Crash

Seether

It's time to go, I'm leaving this all behind
I tread softly, while keeping my head hung
It's all we know, we're screaming without a sound
You speak softly, and carry your bed gownIt's over now, the whisper's are all around
You keep searching for something you can't find
Now time has slowed, and vanity drag's you down
You keep searching for something you can't takeSend me on my way, send me back [for shame, or fortune]Say my name again and I feel like I am lost
Play a game again and you'll find me empty
Say my name again and I feel like I am lost
Play a game again and I'll try more harderYou speak softly and carry your bed gownSend me on my way, send me back fortune

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/