Everything and More

Billy Gilman

You never looked more beautiful than you look tonight
In your eyes I see all I can be and how you change my life
You held on when I let go
Now all I want is to let you knowYour love is like a river, it runs through my heart and soul
It's deep when I'm thirsty and warm when I'm cold
And when I feel forgotten, I come running to your shore
And find peace of mind time after time
You give me everything and moreWhen tomorrow comes, I can face the morning
In a different light
You can change your mind a thousand times
Nothing will ever change mine'Cause your love is like a river, it runs through my heart and soul
It's deep when I'm thirsty and warm when I'm cold
And when I feel forgotten, I come running to your shore
And find peace of mind time after time
You give me everything and moreThe sun will rise
And the light will shine
Oh, everything will be all right
Oh, yes it will
(Yes it will)'Cause your love is like a river, it runs through my heart and soul
It's deep when I'm thirsty and warm when I'm cold
And when I feel forgotten, I come running to your shore
And find peace of mind time after time
You give me everything and more
You give me everything and more
